COMMONWEALTH FUND FOR TECHNICAL CO-OPERATION

Established in 1971, the Commonwealth Fund for Technical Co-operation is an inter-governmental multilateral development fund administered by the Commonwealth Secretariat. Through the Fund, technical assistance is made available to Commonwealth developing countries to assist them in meeting national development priorities.

Through the General Technical Assistance Programme of the Fund, advisory or operational experts are made available in a wide range of interrelated fields of social and economic development. Technical assistance may be provided, for example, in agriculture and rural development and may include both the identification of training requirements and the preparation and implementation of training programmes.

The Fund's Education and Training Programme supports the education and training of personnel from one Commonwealth developing country in other Commonwealth developing countries through the award of fellowships. Awards are made for:-

- a. Courses of training at technical, professional and vocational institutions and universities in Commonwealth developing countries;
- b. Training attachments that are designed to give trainees experience of innovations and techniques that have been developed in other Commonwealth developing countries;
- c. Study visits that enable students to obtain first hand knowledge of developments in other Commonwealth developing countries;
- d. Seminars/workshops that have a clearly defined developmental objective and are strongly oriented towards training.

In the making of CFTC Education and Training awards, priority is given to projects in the broad field of agriculture and rural development.

FOOD PRODUCTION AND RURAL DEVELOPMENT DIVISION

The Food Production and Rural Development Division was set up in November 1975 following a meeting of Commonwealth Ministers of Agriculture in London in March 1975 to consider how to accelerate improvements in food production and the quality of rural life for the vast majority of Commonwealth members who live in rural areas and depend on agriculture for their livelihood. The main function of the Division is to act as a clearing house of information relevant to the subject of food production and rural development and of specific interest to member countries, and fostering co-operative Commonwealth action.

In pursuance of these objectives the Division, (i) assists member governments in the preparation of projects for assistance and in obtaining such assistance where requested, (ii) provides advice and promotes the exchange of information and experience in recruitment and training of staff and arranges training facilities if requested, (iii) organizes studies and the exchange of views among experts from various parts of the Commonwealth on problems of specific interest to member countries, (iv) initiates or co-ordinates regional seminars, and (v) identifies, evaluates, and assists in appropriate field operations of the Commonwealth Fund for Technical Co-operation.

SOME OTHER COMMONWEALTH AND INTERNATIONAL AGENCIES

Association of Commonwealth Universities,
36 Gordon Square, London WC1H 0PF,
England.

A voluntary organization financed by the subscriptions of its member institutions, ACU exists to promote contact and co-operation among member universities throughout the Commonwealth. It organizes meetings and a quinquennial congress, helps to promote the movement of university staff and students from one Commonwealth country to another and provides information about Commonwealth universities.

Colombo Plan Bureau,
12 Melbourne Avenue, Colombo 4,
Sri Lanka.

Originally a Commonwealth scheme for a co-operative programme for the economic development of South and South-East Asia, the Colombo Plan now numbers eleven Commonwealth countries among its 27 members.

Commonwealth Agricultural Bureaux,
Farnham House, Farnham Royal,
Slough SL2 3BN, England.

The CAB, governed by an Executive Council composed of nominees of contributing Commonwealth Governments, began in 1929 and now comprises three Institutes and eleven Bureaux which collect, collate and disseminate information of value to research workers in agricultural sciences, forestry, nutrition, and food science and technology, throughout the Commonwealth and increasingly throughout the world. No formal instruction is given, but arrangements can be made for scientists to study at the Mycological Institute, Ferry Lane, Kew, Surrey; and at the Commonwealth Bureau of Helminthology, The White House, 103 St. Peter's Street, St. Albans, Herts.

The other addresses are:

- Commonwealth Bureau of Agricultural Economics,
Dartington House, Little Clarendon
Street, Oxford OX1 2HH, England.

Commonwealth Association of Surveying and Land Economy,
12 Great George Street,
London SW1P 3AD, England.

Membership of CASLE is open to professional societies in Commonwealth countries which cover one or more of the following activities: surveying and mapping, including all aspects of land, aerial, hydrographic and mining surveying; quantity surveying and building surveying; and land economy, including the valuation or appraisal of real estate, land management and town planning.

Commonwealth Development Corporation,
33 Hill Street, London W1A 3AZ, England.

The CDC is a statutory British body which undertakes, either alone or in association with others, projects for the promotion or expansion of a wide range of economic enterprises. Originally established to assist the economic development of the then dependent territories of the Commonwealth, CDC now extends its operations to independent Commonwealth members and, with special approval, to a few non-Commonwealth countries.

Commonwealth Forestry Association,
18 Northumberland Avenue,
London WC2N 5BJ, England.

The Association's objects are to foster public interest in forestry; to secure general recognition of the dependence of timber supply on forestry management; to collect and circulate information; and to form a centre and a means of communication for those concerned with forestry and forest products.

Commonwealth Foundation,
Marlborough House, Pall Mall,
London SW1Y 5HU, England.

The objects of the Foundation are to encourage and support fuller representation at conferences of professional bodies within the Commonwealth; assist such bodies to hold more conferences between themselves; facilitate the exchange of visits among professional people, especially the younger element; stimulate the flow of information between professional organizations; assist, on request, with the setting-up of national professional institutions and associations; promote the growth of Commonwealth-wide associations or regional Commonwealth associations, and in exceptional cases to help associations or individuals whose activities lie outside the strictly professional field but fall within the general ambit of the Foundation's operations.

Contributions to the resources of the Foundation are made on an agreed scale by participating Commonwealth governments.

Commonwealth Scholarship and Fellowship Plan,
- addresses in individual Commonwealth countries may be obtained from Departments/Ministries of Education.

The CSFP was launched at the first Commonwealth Education Conference in 1959. The Plan operates through a co-ordinated series of bilateral arrangements under which member governments award scholarships at their universities or other institutions of higher learning to men and women from other Commonwealth countries. Fellowships and other senior awards are also offered by some countries under the Plan. These include visiting professorships, senior medical fellowships and academic staff fellowships.

Commonwealth Scientific Committee,
Africa House, Kingsway, London
WC2B 6BD, England.

The terms of reference of the CSC are to consider the best means of ensuring the fullest possible collaboration between the government civil scientific organizations of the Commonwealth. It provides the scientific agencies of developing Commonwealth countries with information and advice, assists them in planning their development and research activities, and advises aid authorities in Commonwealth donor countries on scientific assistance to developing countries.

Commonwealth Veterinary Association,
360 Bronson Avenue, Ottawa, Ontario
K1R 6J2, Canada.

The interests of the veterinary and allied sciences are promoted within the Commonwealth by this Association, which aims to effect close links between member associations; encourage the creation of national associations; facilitate the dissemination of knowledge and information; and promote the interchange of veterinary surgeons and students.

FAO exists to raise levels of nutrition, to improve the efficiency of production and distribution of food and agricultural products, and to better the conditions of rural populations.

Royal Agricultural Society of the Commonwealth, Robarts House,
Rossmore Road, London W1N 6NP,
England.

The principal object of this federation of national agricultural societies within the Commonwealth is to encourage and arrange the interchange of knowledge and experience in the practice and science of agriculture with a view to improving methods of both crop production and the breeding of livestock, to increasing the efficiency of agricultural implements and machinery, and to encouraging the exchange and settlement of young farmers within the Commonwealth.

Standing Committee on Commonwealth
Forestry,
25 Savile Row, London W1X 2AY,
England.

Provides continuity between the quinquennial Commonwealth Forestry Conferences at which are discussed questions of forestry policy in the Commonwealth and wider technical aspects of forestry.

United Nations Development Programme,
UN Headquarters, New York, USA.

UNDP provides technical assistance to developing countries.

United Nations Children's Fund,
UN Headquarters, New York, USA.

UNICEF assists the governments of the developing countries with projects concerning child health including nutrition and hence food production. It is financed by voluntary contributions from governments and from the public.

INDEX TO COURSES AND INSTITUTIONS

This index refers to the codes used for each course rather than to the pages to enable users to find easily the country, as well as the level of training, in which they are interested. The index combines references to institutions as well as to course subjects. Courses are listed alphabetically in full capitals. Under each course the level is indicated by asterisks and the country by the code (see Key pp. ix-x). The list of contents on page iii gives the page numbers of entries for each country. Institutions are also listed alphabetically and are easily distinguished because they are not given full capitals.
