

Appendix

Much of the material for this book was derived from a set of 14 case studies commissioned by the Commonwealth Secretariat. An edited set of these case studies is available separately from the Commonwealth Secretariat. It is entitled Ministries of Education in Small States: Case Studies of Organisation and Management (edited by Mark Bray, 1991). The countries covered by the case studies, and their authors, were:

- Barbados (Ralph Boyce),
- Botswana (Jakes Swartland),
- Brunei Darussalam (Lim Jock Jin & C.J. Nuttman),
- Dominica (Merle E. Peters & Herbert F. Sabaroche),
- Gambia (Gibou Njie & Sulayman Fye),
- Guyana (Una Paul, Milton Bernard, Reuben Dash & Evelyn Hamilton),
- Jersey (John Rodhouse),
- Kiribati (Meita Beiabure Bakeea),
- Maldives (Mohammed Waheed Hassan),
- Malta (Charles J. Farrugia & Paul A. Attard),
- Montserrat (Howard A. Fergus & Albert L. Thomas),
- St. Lucia (Nicholas Frederick),
- Seychelles (Patrick Pillay & Atputhanathan Murugiah), and
- Solomon Islands (Walter Ramo).

The author and advisory team also wish to acknowledge receipt of helpful comments on the draft manuscript from Jill Aitken, Robert Aitken, Narottam Bhindi, Kevin Brown, Michael Crossley, Murray Thomas, John Weeks, and Sheldon Weeks.

Notes on the Author and Advisory Team

Author

Mark Bray holds the post of Reader in Educational Planning and Administration at the University of Hong Kong. He previously taught at the Universities of London, Papua New Guinea and Edinburgh, and in secondary schools in Nigeria and Kenya. Dr Bray has also undertaken numerous consultancy assignments for such organisations as the Asian Development Bank, the Commonwealth Secretariat, Unesco, Unicef, and the World Bank. The small states to which this work has taken him include American Samoa, Antigua, Barbados, Bhutan, Botswana, Brunei Darussalam, Dominica, Fiji, Jersey, Macau, Malta, Montserrat, New Caledonia, St. Lucia, Solomon Islands, Tonga, Vanuatu and Western Samoa. Dr Bray has written over a dozen books on aspects of educational planning, administration and financing in different countries.

Advisory Team

Hubert Charles is the coordinator of Unesco's Caribbean Network of Educational Innovation for Development (CARNEID), based in Barbados. He is a national of Dominica, and was previously Permanent Secretary in Dominica's Ministry of Education & Sports.

Charles Farrugia has been Dean of the Faculty of Education at the University of Malta since the Faculty was established in 1978. He recently moved from Head of the Department of Educational Studies to head the Department of Primary Education. In addition to lecturing in the M.Ed., PGCE and B.Ed. (Hons) programmes offered by the Faculty, he coordinates the Diploma Course in Educational Administration & Management. He studied in Malta, Montreal and London, obtaining a Ph.D. from the University of London. He is coauthor, with Paul Attard, of a book entitled The Multi-Functional Administrator (Commonwealth Secretariat, 1989).

Steve Packer is a Chief Project Officer in the Education Programme of the Commonwealth Secretariat. He has special responsibility for small state programmes, on which he has worked for over 10 years. He has organised Commonwealth activities in the Caribbean, the Mediterranean, the Indian Ocean and the South Pacific.

Jakes Swartland is a national of Botswana. From 1982 to 1988 he was Deputy Permanent Secretary of his country's Ministry of Education. Before taking that post he was Chief Education Officer (Curriculum & Evaluation). He has also been a mathematics teacher and Senior Education Officer responsible for mathematics in secondary schools. He is now the Assistant Director of the Education Programme, Human Resource Development Group, in the Commonwealth Secretariat.